UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Dear residents,

The University of Georgia is pleased to welcome the ESPN College GameDay broadcast to campus in advance of Saturday's 3:30 p.m. football game against Ole Miss. ESPN College GameDay is a live, nationally broadcast pregame show focused on college football.

This Saturday's live broadcast will feature a live performance by Luke Combs and Bailey Zimmerman, likely between 10 a.m. and noon.

Standard gameday protocols will be in place:

- Locked exterior doors
- Security cameras to monitor interior and exterior spaces
- Student and full-time staff on call
- Police on call to respond to emergencies

Because of the scope of the show, several areas will be impacted College GameDay's presence on campus:

- Myers Quad will be limited or inaccessible Wednesday morning through Sunday morning, and you can expect some noise as the set is built
- All Athletic Association parking restrictions still apply. Visit tps.uga.edu/parking/football for a map of affected lots. Some parking lots (GREEN on the map in the link) become available to the public beginning at 5 p.m. Friday. If you leave these lots after that time, you may not find a space when you return

As we participate in the action this weekend, let's work together to keep the community secure and to show the nation how amazing the UGA community is. Have fun, stay safe and GO DAWGS!
